FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,

JAMES G. BLAINE, OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

"We always have the American flag above us and not below us."—James G. Blaine.

Since saying what we have relative to the taxation of unpatented railroad lands, our attention has been called to the Act of Congress approved July 10, 1886. This Act is broad, and makes our position relative thereto incontrovertible. It provides, "that no land granted to any railroad corporation by any Act of Congress shall be exempt from taxation by States, Territories and municipal corporations, on account of the lien of United States upon the same for the costs of surveying, selecting and conveying the same, or because no patent has been issued therefor, but this provision shall not apply to lands unsurveyed; provided, that any such land sold for taxes shall be taken by the purchaser subject to the lien for costs of surveying, selecting and conveying, to be paid in such manner by the purchaser as the Secretary of the Interior may by rule provide, and to all liens of the United States, all mortgages of the United States in respect of such lands." The Act provides further as to what lands it shall apply, and for the United States becoming a preferred purchaser and collecting from the railroad corporations the costs of surveying, &c., and the reimbursement of the purchaser when these costs may have been paid by him.

We learn that the Assessor of Washoe county has for some time intended to tax the surveyed lands of the C. P. R. R. which lie in this county, that he proposes to act upon what he conceives to be double authority, that of the title to these lands having passed on the compliance with the conditions of the grant on the part of the railroad and the Act above referred to.

This will give Washoe county several thousand dollars additional revenue if the correctness of the proposition advanced is sustained.

A special from Washington says that the necessity of cable communication between the United States and Hawaiian Islands is likely to be made one of the subjects of the President's next message to Congress. The State Department officials are strongly in favor of the project and Secretary Bayard and the President are both known to feel that we should not be much longer without speedy and direct communication with the islands. The difficulty of getting a private corporation to embark in the enterprise, which would not perhaps at first be self sustaining, could, it is thought, be obvious by the advantages and subsidy which the Government might offer.

Frank T. Northey has brought suit against Robert F. Morrow, the mining operator, for $52,000 for various services rendered in the fixing of juries. Northey did the work and demands pay. Speaking of the famous case of Wright v. the Geary street Cable Company Northey says of Morrow: He said he wanted me to go to Harry Woods, one of the jurymen, and tell him that he could have $2,000 for each of the other jurors whom he could induce to bring in a verdict for less than $2,000. There was no attempt at disguising his object. He simply came square out and said what he wanted.

John Sherman's boom don't seem to be making much headway in Ohio, and it need not surprise any one if Ohio sends a full Blaine delegation to the next National Republican Convention. The Allen County Republican Convention refused by a vote of 89 to 26, to send delegates to the State Convention to vote as a unit for Sherman for President. Mr. Blaine will be the nominee of the Republican party in 1888, if he wants the nomination.

The principal envelope manufacturers of New York and New England, making from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 per day, have entered into an arrangement for advancing the prices of their goods. The new corporation is called the Standard Envelope Company. It is claimed that there is no intention of raising prices to an unreasonable figure. The estimated increase is five and ten per cent.

There is but one saloon in Riverside, Cal., and it pays a license of $2,300 per year. The city authorities are, however, about to close it up.

The Interior Department has decided that a permanent residence is necessary to secure homestead entry.

THE RAILROAD WEST.

It has been hinted to us, says the Salt Lake Tribune, that arrangements are quietly being made to do the preliminary work necessary before organizing a company to build a railroad from this city to tap some of the important mining camps in Eastern Nevada and Western Utah, namely: To have preliminary surveys made and mapped; to have the districts carefully examined, and reports and maps made of them. We believe that this work could be done for a sum not to exceed $5,000. We believe that, with the data prepared, the money to build 400 miles of good road could be easily secured in the East. We believe that the surveys would show that the 400 miles of road could be built and equipped with 40-lb steel and plenty of rolling stock, for $2,500,000, and that when completed it could depend upon 1,000 tons of ore daily for freight, besides the mail, the express, the coal, salt and a vast amount of merchandise and agricultural products. There are over forty mining camps to be tapped. One thousand tons per day would be but fifty tons from each of twenty mining camps. This, at $2 per ton, would give the road $2,000 per day, or $600,000 for 300 working days in a year. Allowing half the sum for expenses, the other half would pay 12 per cent per annum on the cost of the road. Considering everything that would demand transportation, the road ought to pay 25 per cent, per year, or, with rates like those generally charged, 50 per cent, per year. There is no better promise held out to men anywhere for investment. And such a road started from here and with the idea of keeping this city its main depot, would double the population and the value of property in this city in twelve months. It would do for it more than the Union Pacific, the Central Pacific, the Utah & Northern and the Utah Central are now doing. It would be more to its prosperity than to have three new Eastern roads enter the Territory, for those roads, even if they covered the same lines and commanded the same camps, would ship ores through this city and on to Denver, Kansas City, Omaha or Chicago. If this city had the nerve to subscribe the first $1,000,000 to the road, it would get all its money back in five years; it would, before that time, have its assessable property triplicated, and it would thereafter draw a revenue amounting to enough to pay all its running expenses without taxing the people for anything except needed improvements. No mathematician can successfully dispute these figures. Which one of our rich men will lend his strength to the scheme and thereby double his fortune?

Movement Against Whisky Men.

REDDING, July 15.—The Board of Supervisors of Shasta county have made an order that on and after the 1st of August the license for saloons will be $25 per quarter, the keeper to qualify in the sum of $1,000, with two sufficient freeholders as sureties, for good behavior, and a recommendation that the keeper is a man of good morals to be furnished, substantiated by ten citizens, freeholders of the county. It is thought the number of saloons throughout the county will be materially diminished. The action of the Board seems to be approved by the people of Redding.

Florida people are awaking to a realization of the rivalry of California as a winter resort, and are doing their best to regain lost patronage. In the last issue of the Travelers' Guide is noted the fact that the people of the Palmetto State have made special arrangements with the Pennsylvania road and connecting lines for fast trains and vestibule cars of the same kind the Raymond excursion managers are to send to California. It is noted also that several new hotels at the Florida resorts are projected.

The New York Indicator prints a list of twenty-two railroad companies with an increase in the amount of dividends since 1885, and figures the aggregate capital stock on which increased dividends are paid at $360,480,000, and says the increased annual dividend payments aggregate $11,624,000, that is, these companies are now paying at nearly the rate of $1,000,000 per month more than they were in 1885.

C. A. Buckley was among the arrivals in New York from Europe on Saturday. He is at the Hoffman House with his wife and Dr. William Eaton. He has been to Paris to consult famous oculists there and receive treatment in the hope of the recovery of his eyesight. He has not been benefitted, although future treatment under their direction may help him. He will go to San Francisco this week.

Ex-Speaker Keffler, now in New York, tells the Tribune he thinks there will be little, if any, opposition to the passage by the Ohio State Convention of a resolution endorsing Sherman for President. He thinks Governor Foraker will be re-nominated without opposition and be re-elected by 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

HILL'S OPPORTUNITY.

New York Democrats Said to be Dropping Cleveland.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The Tribune this morning says: An important change of front by the New York Democrats has taken place since Cleveland's rebel flag order and the St. Louis letters. Some time ago an alliance was made between Governor Hill and Cleveland, by which the former agreed to keep out of the Presidential campaign and help Cleveland, and to content himself with the renomination for Governor, and go for the Presidency in 1891. The recent change in the situation has been the result of mistakes by President Cleveland, by which he has drawn on himself the condemnation of old soldiers and patriotic and loyal-minded people. Since the rebel flag and St. Louis surrender affair, any Democrat feels warranted in attacking the President, and Governor Hill's friends especially are encouraging these attacks. Once more they are talking Governor Hill for President. They say Cleveland has lost so much in popularity that his renomination would be sure to be followed by defeat, and the only safety for the party is to turn to a new man—Hill, of course.

Lieutenant-Governor Jones last week made a speech in which he openly condemned the order for the return of the flags, and others of Hill's friends have publicly taken the same ground. The growth of the Labor party is also used as a club to break Cleveland's head with. Hill's friends are now asserting that if the Administration does not want the party defeated next year Cleveland must withdraw in favor of Hill.

A LAND RULING.

Important Principle Governing Settlements on Granted Lands.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The people who took up land within the granted limits of any railroad between the time of the filing of the map of the general route and the arrival at the local Land Office of the notice of withdrawal, can hold that land against any claim of the railroad company. That is the principle enunciated to-day by Secretary Lamar in the case of the Northern Pacific Road against George Burns. The company's map of the general route was filed February 21, 1872. March 21, 1872, Ray Woodworth filed on land in section 30, 6 range W., Bozeman Land district. Withdrawal had been made, but notice had not reached the local Land Office. Woodworth in 1876 sold out to Burns, who went on the land and made about $2,000 worth of improvements, and in 1882 attempted to prove up. The local Land Officers rejected the proof, because the land was within the granted limits and on an odd section. The Commissioner of the General Land Office gave Burns the land, because it had been taken before the map of definite location had been filed. He says that under the last decision of the Supreme Court the Commissioner cannot be sustained, but that under the law of 1876 Burns has a right to the land.

Mr. Edmunds on Bribes and Bribers.

Senator Edmunds has written a letter of encouragement to ex-Representative John B. Landis, President of the Lancaster County Republican Anti-Corruption Association, saying: "I am glad to know that the people of your county are organizing to repress fraud and corruption in your primary elections as well as at the lawful elections themselves. When the public, or the majority of the public, reach the point of having courage enough to refuse to vote for a man who is suspected of being a bribe-giver or offender, and apply the utmost of lawful punishment to the giving and taking of bribes, then an advance has been made in good government far beyond any other that can be suggested."

AN IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.

The Silver State remarks: The Reno Stockman announces "that an article from the pen of an experienced stockman on the irrepressible conflict between cattlemen and sheepmen will shortly appear in its columns." As the result of the "conflict" is to be determined by the profits of the cattle and sheep business, respectively, time will settle the question. Neither cattlemen or sheepmen will continue in the business in which they are now engaged from sentiment, if they are satisfied a change from one to the other would be more profitable. Very many stockmen in this county have both cattle and sheep, and as pastureage becomes scarcer they will part with the one which they find by experience to be the least profitable, just as a farmer will abandon wheat growing if he finds he can make more money by raising barley.

The "irrepressible conflict" between cattlemen and sheepmen is purely a selfish one based upon dollars and cents.

A UNIQUE DRESS.—Mrs. McCormick, a Michigan woman, who probably had much time to spare, has made a unique dress. The material is common wool thread, white, and the entire dress is hand-crocheted work, beautifully flowered and strong, and 10,000 yards of thread were used in its construction. The sleeves are crocheted in the proper shape and are fastened in by a lock-crocheted stitch. It is very beautiful, and Mrs. McCormick was six months completing it.

Mrs. John W. Mackay gave a soiree musicale at her London residence on Tuesday evening. Mackay, who arrived at Liverpool Monday night, was present.

There was another big thunder shower Sunday, followed by one of less degree yesterday. These showers are very acceptable, except so far as injury to the hay on the ground.

In Washoe county this year cattle are assessed at $15 a head and sheep $1 50 a head. The same valuations have been placed on these quadrupeds in Humboldt and Elko counties. The Assessor of Lyon county also assesses sheep at $1 50 a head.

The overland due Sunday night did not arrive until yesterday morning, owing to a wash-out ninety miles this side of Ogden. The "lightning" returned Sunday night on overland time, and the delayed train filled in for the lightning of yesterday morning.

JACK RABBITS.—Jack rabbits are more numerous in parts of California than they are in Nevada. In Tulare county farmers keep greyhounds to chase them and on some ranches they kill from fifty to sixty a day. A disease has broken out among them in some places and they are dying by the thousand. So far this summer they have not been as numerous in this State as they were a year ago, and farmers do not complain much of their depredations.

SHOOTING CATTLE.—The White Pine News learns that trouble is brewing in that county over the alleged shooting of some of ex-Governor Adam's cattle by a rancher.

A LIVELY TOWN.

And How it was Cleared of Bad Characters—The Vigilants.

Truckee in 1873 was one of the liveliest towns in California. The new overland railroad brought to it money, merchandise and activity; but it also brought the bad element common to new prosperous localities. The good men were thinking seriously of banding together to drive out the bad, when a strange incident occurred which relieved the town on the instant of two of its worst characters. Jack White and Andy Fudget had quarrelled. Meeting one day upon the street each emptied the chambers of his navy revolver into the body of the other. Both died. This spontaneous combustion of crime was a happy circumstance and a wholesome warning. For a time peace reigned at Truckee. But by November, 1874, villainy became unbearable, and the substantial citizens felt obliged to resolve themselves into a Committee of Vigilance. This they did, with "601" as their sanguinary symbol. Orders to leave were issued and for the most part obeyed. Two, however, a man and a woman, Bob Mellon and Carrie Prior, alias Spring Chicken, refused to quit the town. Bob and Carrie must be made to go; so one day orders were issued for the vigilants to meet at midnight. Foremost among the citizens in energy and respectability, was D. B. Frink, a prominent member of the committee.

Masked in black cloth, covering head, shoulders and breast, with coats turned inside out, the small men padded to look large, and the large men, contracting their breadth and stature so as to appear diminutive, the society of 601 met in the principal hall. They were well armed with concealed knives, pistols, and quiet determination. Carrie felt the approaching affray instinctively. She said they might come on, that in Hayward's house, a place of bad repute situated on a back street, would be forty armed men to protect her. Mellon swore he would not be taken alive, and that he would kill at least a dozen vigilants before they could kill him.

When all was ready, silently the masked men left the hall, passed through a saloon, and surrounded the Hayward house. Four took their station at the back door. Thirty entered the front door and demanded of Hayward the surrender of the house. No opposition was made. Hayward was then ordered to open the door to every room. Closely at his heels followed the masked party. After examining the first floor they all proceeded through a narrow hall to the stairway, Hayward being in front carrying a light. The threats of Carrie and Mellon had led the party to expect a certain attack, and their nerves were now stretched to their utmost tension. Suddenly through the broken panel of the back door, which opened into the hall, a pistol was thrust, whose glittering barrel covered the whole line of vigilants. It was black darkness without, and as the vigilants were momentarily expecting attack there was no time to be lost; so that almost simultaneously with the appearance of the pistol barrel shots were fired from behind. Hayward and one of the men at the back door fell dead. The search was continued; the town was cleared of its bad characters; but the result of the night's work sent a thrill of horror through the community, never to be forgotten, when it was learned next morning that it was the honored and beloved Frink who was thus unintentionally killed by one of his own comrades.—From Bancroft's Popular Tribunals, Vol. 1.

COUNTY EXHIBIT.—The Esmeralda News has an excellent article urging the people of that section to make the exhibit which it is proposed to prepare of the resources of that county for the State Fair, one which should do the county credit, and prove to the world something of the greatness of Esmeralda's wealth. The advice is timely and well given. Let the people of this county come to the State Agricultural Exposition with a royal display of its varied products, and it will go very far toward properly advertising a section as yet little known, but one of the grandest in the State.

TESTIMONIAL.—I have been slowly going blind with granulated eye-lids and white spots forming on my eyes for the past seventeen years. I heard of Dr. Prentice at the Lake House, Reno, and rode over sixty miles on a mustang to see the Doctor. Dr. Prentice has now treated my eyes one week, and I can see better than I have in ten years, and read the newspaper again. Myself and other patients have persuaded Dr. Prentice to stay at Reno one week more until June 24th. ALBERT PICKEREL.

Will Remain a Few Days Longer.—Dr. Prentice, who has done a large and successful business in Reno and Virginia City, at the urgent request of many suffering people in Nevada, has consented to remain at the Lake House, Reno, until July 24th.

Col. Hardin came in from Winnemucca last night to meet his family at Truckee, and go to Tahoe this morning.

A GOOD INDICATION.

The Esmeralda News appropriately remarks.

All over our State there is an increasing demand for miners, farmers, wood choppers and other laborers. This is indicative of everlasting prosperity. No other State in the Union could stand the weight of oppression which of late years has been thrust upon Nevada. Mining, her principal industry, has received a set-back by congressional action and non-action, and, notwithstanding the Interstate Commerce law, our people are made to suffer from extortionate fares and freights. In nearly every mining camp there is a scarcity of miners and in the eastern portion of Nevada in several camps Indians are employed and paid the going miners wages (which is too small).

Had the ice and timber industry of Maine, the coal and iron industry of Pennsylvania, the sugar and cotton industry of the South and the manufacturing industry of the New England States received such hostile legislation as has silver, there would have been such discontent as to cause revolution, but the Wall street gold-bugs can dictate a financial policy for our Nation to the detriment of its people and the Pacific Coast in particular, and to the injury of silver mining in Nevada and there is nothing but a peace policy to have silver restored to its proper place. What causes a scarcity of miners and other laborers in Nevada? It is because they are not paid adequate compensation for their services; miners receive less pay per diem in Nevada than they can obtain in other places, and those who are working for wages have to pay almost the same fancy prices for clothes, board and lodging they did in the earlier times when there was no railroad. It is strange that with the reduction in the price of commodities which miners are compelled to purchase; hence they have sought other fields and the supply, at the present rate of wages, does not equal the demand.

No person can read the newspapers in this State without noticing the demand for workers in all the avenues of labor; it is a striking significance of the prosperity of the State and the activity in the various fields of labor. Wonder if the foreign influx has anything to do with it? Should silver ever be restored to its former standing, and that to which it rightfully belongs, Nevada would discount any other State in the Union. When the Congress of the United States again convenes, will recently elected William obtain for Nevada such silver legislation as is demanded? Will he try? We hope so.

Sacred Song is of all Creeds.

But it is in our worship, more than anywhere else, that we come closest to the one Universal Church. In the liturgies of the Churches, the old Romish forms have bequeathed their choicest prayers and praise—their Glorias, Te Deums and anthems. We unconsciously, in our devotions, use the unsurpassed passages of the Litany and collects and prayers of our Episcopal brethren. We sing Wesley's hymns in Calvinistic churches, and many a devout Methodist breathes out his faith in the Evangelical hymn, "My Faith Looks up to Thee." We love to raise our voices to the words of St. Bernard and Francis Xavier found in our Presbyterian hymn-books. "Lead, Kindly Light," sings the Catholic Newman; "Nearer my God to Thee," pleads in song the Unitarian Miss Adams; "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," shouts Bowring the Unitarian; "Angels of Jesus," prays the Catholic Faber; "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," sings the Universalist Phoebe Carey;—Rev. Alexander E. Merriam, in the American Magazine.
